

Bartle Guitar Studio Health and Safety Practices

Bartle Guitar Studio is open for business. Your health and safety is of utmost importance to us. We are taking proactive measures to ensure that the music studio follows CDC recommended guidelines for preventing the spread of the Coronavirus (COVID-19):

- If you or your child does not feel well, has a cough, fever, or other symptoms, please reschedule your lesson.
- You are encouraged to wash your hands before and after your lesson in the downstairs or upstairs bathrooms. The CDC recommends washing your hands for at least 20 seconds with soap and water. Hand towels are changed throughout the day and laundered.
- We have specific cleaning tasks that include cleaning and disinfecting frequently touched objects and surfaces.
- Common surfaces will be routinely disinfected in between lessons.

Please don't hesitate to contact me with any concerns or questions. I will continue to monitor the CDC website to ensure that Bartle Guitar Studio adheres to up-to-date health guidelines for our community.

Sincerely,

Lorian Bartle
