

2023-24 Studio Policy

Welcome to the Bartle Guitar Studio!

I look forward to helping you reach your individual musical goals. As you progress through your lessons, you will acquire musical skills and techniques that can be applied to a wide musical repertoire. I teach acoustic and classical guitar, music theory, and keyboard theory to students ages five to adult.

Materials: Students are to bring a guitar and music books to each lesson. It is recommended that you communicate with me prior to purchasing a guitar, books, and music supplies. A substandard instrument or instrument that is not the correct size can impede student learning. I will research the current market and make recommendations for buying a quality, affordable instrument. In addition, students will need to have a guitar tuner, guitar footstool, and music stand for home practice.

Practicing: It is recommended that students practice consistently at a regular time at least five days a week and that a well-lit, distraction-free practice area be set up in your home with a music stand, guitar footstool, and supportive chair or bench. Parents can assist their children with establishing a practice routine. Students should focus on practicing the repertoire covered during each lesson in determining the daily amount of time needed to practice.

Recitals: Students are encouraged to participate in the recitals that are scheduled throughout the year. Performances take place in community-based settings and frequently occur in conjunction with the Foothills Music Teacher Association. Recitals give students the opportunity to work towards goals, meet fellow musicians, and strengthen public performance skills.

Summer Months: During the summer months, it is highly recommended for students to maintain a consistent lesson and practice schedule. Summer can be a wonderfully productive time for practice without the obligations of the academic school year. Lessons will be scheduled around vacations and summer camps on a flexible per-lesson basis.

2023-24 Tuition & Fees*

Students are enrolled for the academic school year on a tuition basis from August 14, 2023 to May 24, 2024. Tuition is based on a 37-week teaching year plus three recital opportunities. The total tuition is divided into even amounts spread over nine months. Lessons that fall on a one-day holiday may be rescheduled within the week in space-available time slots. Students starting mid-month will be charged on a prorated schedule based on the number of lessons left in the month. During the summer months from May 28, 2024 to August 9, 2024, lessons are charged on a per-lesson basis.

Payments can be made by Zelle, cash, or check. Please make checks out to Bartle Guitar Studio. There is a $20 returned check fee. Refunds or missed lesson credits are not offered.

Schedule: Lessons are scheduled on a weekly or bi-weekly basis and are taught Mondays through Fridays (lesson times scheduled every other week available to adults only during daytime hours.) Lesson times will be confirmed every two months in advance of the upcoming session.

Attendance Policy: Makeups must be scheduled during the current semester and cannot be “carried over.” Missed lessons can be made up in two ways: (1) rescheduling outside the reserved time slots (2) adding time increments to future lessons. Makeups are based on availability and specific time slots cannot be guaranteed. Lessons missed without advance notice or with less than 24-hour notice will not be made up (exceptions granted for emergencies only). No refunds or credits will be issued for missed lessons. Lessons missed by the instructor will be rescheduled in space-available time slots. Online Zoom lessons are offered for students unable to attend in person.

Care of Children: Adult supervision of minors is only available during the scheduled lesson time in the studio teaching room. Bartle Guitar Studio is not responsible for children under 18 who leave the premises unaccompanied.
